

Ten Years of Folk

A History of the Cambridge Folk Festival

'Jean Ritchie opened her dulcimer case and took out two little bits of wood, one with a wooden propeller on. It was called a Gee-Haw-Wimmy-diddle. When she rubbed the one with the other and said "Gee" the propeller went one way and when she said "Haw" it went the other. Her songs too were traditional Appalachian and like the toy just as fantastic.'

(John Holder, 1971)

61

'The next person I am going to put on is someone who's music I have possibly enjoyed more than anyone else's I have ever heard in my life. The world is full of banjo players and I think most of them are here, players who play faster - more notes and know more chords than the man who is on next. But I don't think there's a man in the world who makes more music out of his banjo. He's been away a long time; when I met him it was seven years ago and he was already a legend. Now he's back, so please put your hands together and welcome back Derrol Adams.'

(Peter Bellamy, 1972)

62

63

'I would like to introduce to you now two very good friends of mine, I have known Harvey since he was knee high to a Gibson guitar and I've known Graham since he was awarded the milk board award of the year, he's on orange juice this week-end. Harvey Andrews and Graham Cooper.'

(Chris Rohmann 1973)

'Scotty engineered a skilful compromise between rock and soulful music. The climax was Harvey Andrews "Hey Sandy" with the composer joining him . . . Harvey had his own success during the week-end, not the least of which was "Hans" . . . Harvey was steaming with enthusiasm as he relaxed outside his tent on Sunday morning. "The return of more explicit emotional approach to music seemed imminent", he remarked happily . . .'

(Andrew Means, 'Melody Maker', 1971)

64

'Jonathan Kelly Star of Cambridge. Saturday night makes no sense without including words about Jonathan Kelly, who is undoubtedly one of the talents to emerge this year.'

(Andrew Means, 'Melody Maker', 1971)

61

'The next person I am going to put on is someone who's music I have possibly enjoyed more than anyone else's I have ever heard in my life. The world is full of banjo players and I think most of them are here, players who play faster – more notes and know more chords than the man who is on next. But I don't think there's a man in the world who makes more music out of his banjo. He's been away a long time; when I met him it was seven years ago and he was already a legend. Now he's back, so please put your hands together and welcome back Derrol Adams.'

(Peter Bellamy, 1972)

The Artists

Those booked and those who played for the hell of it

Harvey Andrews & Graham Cooper

Derroll Adams

Ian Anderson

The Albion Country Band

Anita & The Blue Grass Boys

Pete Atkin

Dave & Toni Arthur

Eric Anderson

Sally Angie

Robin Arzoni

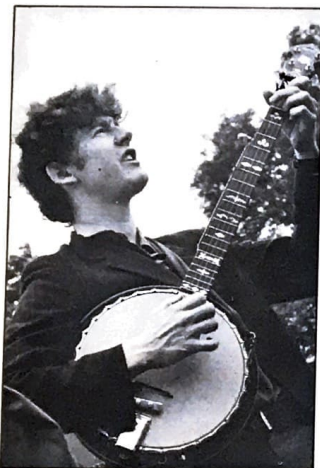

Stan Ambrose

Alex Atterson

Bothy Folk

Derek Brimstone

Packie Byrne

125

Jon Betmead

Shirley Bland

Anne Briggs

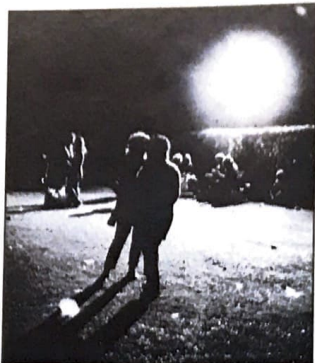

Boys of the Lough

Roy Brown

Peter Bellamy

Chris Birch

John Basset

126

Jenny Beeching

Mark Brierley

Dave Benford

Bob Roberts

Nick Barraclough

Sidney Carter

Bill Clifton

Shirley Collins

The Clancy Brothers

Alex Campbell

Isla Cameron

Martin Carthy & Dave Swarbrick

Ian Campbell

The Crofters

Dave Calderhead

Crusador Steel Band

The Chieftains

Jasper Carrot

Dave Cartwright

C.O.B.

Coppermill

Mike Cooper's Machine Gun Co.

Bryan Chalker's New Frontier

Tony Capstick

Calicoe String Band

The Couriers

Crossbreed

Guy Carawan

Magna Carta

Broken Consort

Jim Croce

Rev. Gary Davis

The Dubliners

Bob Davenport

Nigel Denver

Diz Dsley

Robin & Barry Dransfield

George Deacon & Marlon Ross

De Cameron

Jonathan Dean

The Down County Boys

Hazel Dalglish

The Diddlers

127

Benny Drake

Every Day Dirt

Echo Mountain Band

English Tapestry

Ray & Archie Fisher

Famous Jug Band

Tony Foxworthy

Mr Fox

Gary Farr

Family Album

Mimi Farina & Tom Jans

Fine City

Judi Fraenkel

Fungus

Temporary Ferret

128

Steve Goodman

Glenside Ceili Band

Roy Guest

Gas Works

Stefan Grossman

Dick Gaughan

Isaac Guillory

Brian Golbey

Gryphon

Vin Garbet

Davey Graham

Holly Graham

Erik Grainger

Stephane Grappelli

Arlo Guthrie

Gordon Giltrap

Heather & Rural Delivery

Doris Henderson

Halliards

Jancis Harvey

Johnny Handle

High Level Ranters

Roy Harper

Hockett

129

Jake Holmes

Hamish Imlack

Jon Isherwood

Idiom Folk Group

The Johnstons

Fred Jordan

Wiz Jones

John James

Tom Jans

Vera Johnston

Bridget St. John

Joe Ann Kelly

Louis Killen

Adrian Kendon

Stan Kelly

Roger Knowles

Jonathan Kelly

Spider John Koerner

Andrew Kendon

132

Shades of MacMurrough

Mike Moran

Gillian McPherson

Ralph McTell

T Sgt Moody & Family

Dave Moses

Noel Murphy

Shelagh McDonald

Roy Mullins

Maggies Farm

The Meggies

Marsden Rattlers

Mountain Line

New Old Timers

New Deal String Band

Wat Nicholl

New Decimal System

Chris Newman

Odetta

Orange Blossom Sound

Oak

Pentangle

Planxty

Tom Paxton

Paris Chambery Boys

Tom Paley

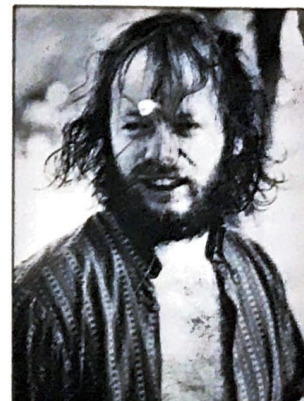

Pigsty Hill Light Orchestra

Prudoe & Wyton Folksong Club

Pisces

John Prine

Panama Limited

130

Trevor Lucas

Joe Locker

Sandy Larsen

The Ludlows

Tudor Lodge

Tommy Makem

Jim Maxman

Jim Metson & Bob Norris

Paul McNeil

Jim Manney

Stuart Marson

131